Thursday, 06/12/25- Wagon Extension: We started the Wagon extension this week, working from the very end of the Sulphur Parking area that is gated off back towards the public parking area. Eleven volunteers, seven Talking Talons and Chris (SRD) braved the poison ivy (only seen at the farthest road area) and the heat to get started on the extension. It is taking shape and we should be finished soon. Some sections went quickly as there was some established trail but other areas were extremely duffy and full of fallen branches and dead wood.

Volunteers: Luis Cuadros, Claudia Bergsohn, Byron Garner, John McNett, Laura Leon, Bill Perkins, Dorna Bostwick, Rich Fagioli, Eric Russell, Bruce Hansche, and Eric Messerschmidt.

Talking Talons: Aidan, Lila, Eli, Rebecca, Jamie, Hans and Evan

Claudia and Bill worked the heavy brush near the end of the road.

Bruce and Byron dig through the brush and had shade!

Eric the Younger and Eric the Elder work side by side.

Luis is trying to get the edge just right...

Rich scuffed through an easy spot and then moved onto harder terrain.

John works on down the line.

Talking Talons muscle their way along.

Alpine Cancer-root was everywhere.
